BAN JOHNSON'S CHANCE TO TELL THE FACTS.

Use of Bribery Scandal Story to Play Baseball Politics May Answer the Press' Oft Repeated Question—Ward-Heydler Battle to Go to a Finish.

This is baseball week. The magnates of the American League and the National League will meet for their annual business session, which means plenty of free advertising. The sayings and doings of some of these men are heralded from the Atlantic to the Pacific with as much importance as the fate of the nation.

In the line of publicity these persons have little leisure to read the days when their story is devoted to private life to clothing stores, jewelry shops, distilleries, starting street cars, ticket speculators and other things. The popularity of baseball has made them important in the estimation of the public and the fans if not in that of the public in general.

So when the word is flashed from Chicago that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, will give the inside story of the much talked of bribery scandal of 1908 the curiosity of the fans is at its height. Johnson adds an "if" with this threat.

He said he will expose the persons behind the alleged to have been offered to Johnson at the Polo Grounds just before the decisive game between the Giants and Cubs in October, 1908, unless the opposition to John A. Heydler disappears or it becomes necessary to prevent what Johnson says is a bribery scandal.

Johnson is quoted as saying that the persons who are behind the alleged scandal are now being barred from all ball parks, and he has learned some things that implicate persons "higher up." In justice to the baseball fans, he said, he will give the inside story of the scandal. Johnson is believed to have large profits whatever facts he may have in his possession regardless of the nature of the scandal. Johnson's statements are now being regarded as a direct benefit to the fans.

If Johnson can prove the identity of the man or men who engineered the plot to bribe Heydler, said a non-partisan yesterday, he should be given the information he has to play. It is not a question of Ward or Heydler, but the integrity of the national game which is involved.

Johnson is a member of the National Commission, which investigated the scandal last winter and ordered that a certain man should be barred out of all organized baseball grounds. Johnson and his fellow commissioners, however, are not to be satisfied with the results of the investigation. Johnson said at the time that there was not sufficient evidence to implicate anybody else, so that the matter was allowed to drop.

Johnson has stirred it all up again and he should be given the information he has to play. It is not a question of Ward or Heydler, but the integrity of the national game which is involved.

NEW YORKERS IN GOLFING

THIRTEEN TOURNAMENTS AT THE LOCAL COURSES.

Travis and Herreshoff Made the Best Showing in Them—Championship Courses to Be Selected by Metropolitan Association to-Morrow Night.

Although Secretary Vanderpool had slow returns to his circular asking the names of the delegates to the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Golf Association to-morrow night at Delmonico's. There are no amendments to the list of delegates to be made at the annual meeting of the Metropolitan Golf Association to-morrow night at Delmonico's.

The latter has lost any special significance by being open to all professionals, the same as the national, Western and Eastern open championships. Alick Smith won both the Eastern and Western, this season, with Gilbert Nichols of Wilmington, Del., second for each.

There were thirteen tournaments at the M. G. A. clubs, including the amateur and open championships. The data show that the M. G. A. clubs have been very successful in their efforts to attract players to the game.
